

Dr Dirk Vogler
Chief MidCorp Transformation Officer (CMTO)
Member of the Board of Management Allianz Global Corporate & Specialty SE

Personal details

Date of birth: November 19, 1975
Place of birth: Hamburg, Germany
Nationality: German
Languages: German, English, Spanish

Education

Dirk Vogler has a Doctorate in Insurance Studies from the University of Cologne. In addition, he has a Master's in Economics and Business Administration from the Private University of Witten/Herdecke, Germany, and he also studied Business Administration at the University of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Professional career

2004 – 2012

Engagement Manager (Project Leader), McKinsey & Company Inc., Düsseldorf

As a senior project manager, he led a wide variety of strategic projects, with a focus on insurance and banking (Distribution and Strategy).

2012 Head of Strategy, VHV Versicherungen, Hanover

2013 – 2016 Head of Motor Private Lines, VHV Versicherungen, Hanover

During his time in this role, he led on pricing decisions (new business and closed book), the definition and controlling of underwriting guidelines, and product development (incl. Telematics).

2016 – 2018

Director Renewal Program P&C, Allianz Versicherungs-AG, Munich

In this role, he oversaw the transformation of P&C business, including defining the main strategic priorities and steering of strategic projects.

2018 – 2023

Member of the Board, Allianz Versicherungs AG

He had responsibility for pricing decisions (new business and portfolio), portfolio management, strategic product development and Operations and Underwriting.

Since February 2023

Allianz Global Corporate & Specialty SE (AGCS)

Appointed as Chief MidCorp Transformation Officer (CMTO) and Member of the Board of Management Allianz Global Corporate & Specialty SE. In his role, he drives greater collaboration and partnership between AGCS and other Allianz P&C companies active in the MidCorp market globally – a strategic priority for Allianz Group in response to the opportunities in the growing Commercial P&C segment.