Celebrating two decades of collaboration, Allianz Partners and Iberia extend their partnership for two more years

Paris/Madrid, February 18th, 2026

Iberia, Spain's largest airline and leading carrier, and part of the IAG Group, and Allianz Partners, a world leader in B2B2C insurance and assistance services, announce the extension of their existing business partnership for an additional two years.

This extension marks a significant milestone as the two companies approach their 20th anniversary of collaboration in 2026, underscoring a robust and enduring partnership that has consistently delivered exceptional value to travelers across the globe.

Since the start of the partnership in 2006, Allianz Partners and Iberia have provided comprehensive travel insurance solutions to travelers, which include essential benefits such as financial protection against trip cancellations, medical coverage abroad, and assistance with delays and lost baggage. Customers can easily purchase and access these insurance products through different channels, such as when booking their flight on Iberia's website or mobile app, and during the 'Manage My booking' and online check-in processes.

The partnership spans 13 markets, including 11 existing markets in Europe*, and new markets like the United States and Mexico, reinforcing our collaboration and joint strategic positioning.

Anna Kofoed, Chief Officer Global Strategic Partnerships at Allianz Partners, comments: "As we mark two decades of partnership with Iberia in 2026, we are delighted to continue this enduring collaboration. It reflects the mutual trust and shared vision, driving innovation and excellence in our offerings to adapt to the evolving needs of travelers. At Allianz Partners we are committed to supporting leading airlines globally and ensuring peace of mind for millions of Iberia's passengers."

Ignacio Valeros, Director of Revenue Management, Ancillaries & Merchandising at Iberia, adds: "We are very proud not only to celebrate 20 years of collaboration with Allianz Partners, but also to announce this extension of the agreement, which has become a key part of the value proposition we want to deliver to our customers, with the aim of providing them with the widest range of options to personalize their trip and enjoy a smoother travel experience."
